Dave Cyr Elected to Term as Board Vice President of Georgia's Top Commercial Contractor Association

Atlanta, GA, July 23, 2012 – The Associated General Contractors of Georgia (AGC Georgia) recently elected Dave Cyr as the 2012-13 chapter vice president. Cyr recently completed two terms as the Board secretary. Cyr is President of Parrish Construction Group, a Perry-headquartered, full-service contractor with expertise in facility planning, preconstruction, construction management at-risk, general contracting, and design build services. Founded 1995, the firm specializes in academic, commercial, healthcare and industrial projects for the public and private sectors throughout Georgia. Over the past several years, despite the sluggish economy, the firm has continued to grow, expanding its operations to North Georgia in 2010 with a new office in Roswell and increasing its full-time workforce by 25%.

Cyr was appointed by Governor Perdue in 2006 to serve on the State Licensing Board for Residential and General Contractors and is currently serving in his second term at that post and previously served a two-year term as chair of the General Contractor Division of the Board. Cyr also serves on the Editorial Review Board for Georgia's State Construction Manual, the Facilities Advisory Council for Georgia's Board of Regents and the Construction Industry Advisory Board for the Georgia State Financing and Investment Commission. In addition to volunteering time to serve the construction industry, Cyr enjoys participating in many civic, charitable and economic development organizations in and around the Middle Georgia community. "It is an honor for me to continue my service on the AGC Board representing our member firms and the state's construction industry. I am pleased to be in the company of so many outstanding professionals who make up our great association," says Cyr.

Other officers joining Cyr in leading the Chapter's board of directors include Ken Swofford, Swofford Construction, Inc. in Austell as president; Randall Redding, R. K. Redding Construction, Inc. in Bremen as treasurer; and Trey Anderson, Anderson Construction Company of Fort Gaines as secretary.
